

Culture, trauma and conflict
Cultural studies perspectives on war
Nico Carpentier (ed.)

Introduction

Chapter 1: Nico Carpentier
Strengthening Cultural War Studies

Part 1: Media representations of war

Chapter 2: Rebecca A. Adelman
'Fort Livingroom': Gender, Race, Class, Sexuality, and Sentiment in Last Letters Home

Chapter 3: Christina Lane
Good Grief: The Cultural Work of Flightplan and the Vanishing Lady Tale

Chapter 4: Metasebia Woldemariam
Memory, Representation and Genocide on Film

Chapter 5: Karen J. Hall
Photos for Access: War Pornography and US Practices of Power

Part 2: Incarceration and torture

Chapter 6: Usha Zacharias
Abu Ghraib, War Media and the Gray Zones of Imperial Citizenship

Chapter 7: Stephanie Athey
Torture, Alibi and Archetype in US News and Law Since 2001

Part 3: Trauma and memory

Chapter 8: Gordon Coonfield
News Images, Lived Images, and the Trauma of Everyday Life

Chapter 9: Vincent Stephens
American Infants: Coping with trauma and becoming historical in A Home at the End of the World and American Pastoral

Chapter 10: Marc Lafleur
Life and Death on the 60th Anniversary of the A-bomb: Sovereignty, Politics and Memory

Chapter 11: Tina Wasserman
Intersecting Traumas: The Holocaust, the Palestinian Occupation, and the work of Israeli Journalist Amira Hass

Chapter 12: Nico Carpentier
From individual tragedy to societal dislocation. The filmic representation of tragedy, dislocation, and cultural trauma in the Dreyfus affair.